 - Mattresses are prohibited from being left anywhere outside a bedroom, including in a storage closet, basement area, hallway closet, or common area. The chapter/residents will be responsible for charges related to removing and discarding mattresses as needed.

⁹ Exceptions for mattresses: Refer to the section on Mattresses in this guide for further details.

¹⁰ If 1 person is scheduled to live in a room that is labeled as a 2-person room, up to two of each item can be in the bedroom.

¹¹ If 1 or 2 people are scheduled to live in a room that is labeled as a 3-person room in the fall, up to three of each item can be in the bedroom.

 - It is recommended that chapters secure outdoor furniture, sports equipment, BBQ grills, etc. in a safe location and/or use a chain lock.
 - House Managers: take pictures of outdoor areas to show approved furniture staying outside.

- Fire Code Compliance:

Standardized Furniture provided by the chapter must remain inside the room.

If the resident does not want the Standardized Furniture, it cannot be moved into hallways or common areas. It must stay in the room.

These pictures show how a room should look at move-in and move-out. No personal items or trash are present.

The rooms are ready for a new resident!

 - When the PennCard is about to expire, the chapter is responsible for reaching out to OFSL for the chef to submit the required paperwork and receive a new PennCard.
- New Chefs:

- The chapter/resident will be responsible for Life Safety Violation fines, conduct consequences, and educational outcomes for violating life safety procedures.

- If a resident moves rooms without authorization from OFSL, they are responsible for costs related to damages/alterations in their assigned bedroom.

SECURITY DEPOSITS

Overview:

- Security Deposits are posted to all student accounts similarly to housing rent costs. Returns are typically posted at the end of the summer after May move-out.

FAQ from the OFSL Finances website:

Q1: What is a chapter housing security deposit?

A: A security deposit is an amount of money held for the duration of a resident's length of occupancy & can be used to reconcile bedroom damages, unpaid key charges, community area damages split among residents, and fees associated with the resident's housing (such as unpaid move-out extension fees).

Q2: What is the benefit of having a security deposit?

A: A security deposit ensures the correct person is held accountable. If a security deposit does not exist, damage amounts are sent to the chapter. In some cases, the chapter could face difficulty recouping the finances from the former resident, especially if the resident graduated or terminated their membership with the chapter.

Q3: What is the process to determine how much of the security deposit will be returned to the resident?

A: Bedrooms are inspected before a resident moves-in and after a resident moves-out. Common areas are inspected before the chapter house opens in August, during regular inspections throughout the academic year, and when all residents have moved-out in May.

Q4: When I move-in, how can I note a damage that is observed in my bedroom?

A: If a resident observes a damage condition to their assigned bedroom when they move-in, they must report the damage condition via the Campus Apartments maintenance request system immediately upon move-in so the condition is time-stamped, & Campus Apartments can inspect & repair as needed.

SOCIAL EVENTS & REGISTRATION²²

- Chapter leadership will receive a memo regarding event registration/expectations.
- Chapters/residents must follow the event registration process & Alcohol & Other Drugs Policies.
- Chapters must also follow the policies of their inter/national organization and governing council.
- A chapter may require completing social trainings before being permitted to host social events.
- Chapters/residents must follow the university policies, dates, and guidelines.
- Information about violations is included in the memo.

²² Refer to the Occupancy Agreement, section XVIII.

- Tampering with the internet box in the bedroom is prohibited.

- For specific information on connecting devices such as Desktop Computers, Laptops, Gaming Consols, etc., visit the Penn ISC Website on Connectivity Options.

 - connect with USB cable as wireless devices are not reachable via GreekNet and/or AirPennNet

WEATHER ADVISORY

Overview:

- Keep tabs on the forecast for your anticipated move-in date. In the case of rain, pack an umbrella, towels, jackets, and covers/moving blankets to place on top of your items (especially electronics, clothes, and furniture). In the case of heat and sunny weather, we recommend using sunscreen and wearing light-weight cotton clothes and close-toed shoes. Stay hydrated by drinking water and wear sunscreen. Do not bring family pets.
- Air Conditioning: please note that neither the University of Pennsylvania nor Campus Apartments is responsible for providing personal air conditioning units inside the University-operated chapter houses. Any house with central air conditioning has been provided with that amenity exclusively through the organization's house corporation. If your chapter house does not have central air, you can consider using a window or free-standing fan for your room. The personal installation of a ceiling fan is prohibited. Some rooms may have a window A/C unit already installed in the window, but please note that such occurrences are the result of a previous resident leaving the unit they purchased behind. Penn did not purchase or supply these units. If an existing A/C unit left from a previous resident is not operating properly, maintenance personnel from Campus Apartments can inspect the unit and suggest replacement parts; however, the purchase of those parts or a new unit is the sole responsibility of the resident.

Before operating an A/C unit that has been left in your bedroom, we recommend cleaning the unit thoroughly. For a step-by-step guide to cleaning a window unit, visit this helpful website:
